The Tuesday Society for Singing was established in fall of 2025 to provide an opportunity for students and adults to sing together in an ambitious, cross-generational choir dedicated to building community through joyful weekly rehearsals. Student members are drawn from the Concert Choir. Singing alongside these motivated Exonians, community adults with substantial choral background elect to participate, modeling a life-long commitment to making fun through making music.

The Nightingales is a soprano/alto ensemble that meets weekly as part of the vocal chamber music program. Singers represent all grades and experience levels across the choir program.
